

The Little Book of Cruelty Free 2015

The Leaping Bunny

It seems that there is an 'animal-friendly' statement on every cosmetic and household product available, not to mention the different bunny logos out there. It's utterly confusing and can have no real meaning.

The Leaping Bunny is the only internationally-recognised certification for cosmetics, personal care and household product brands which are not tested on animals. The entire supplier monitoring system is audited for compliance with our strict criteria.

Why shop cruelty free?

Consumers have the power to make positive change...

Did you know that 80% of the world still allows animals to be used in cruel tests for cosmetics? And almost all countries still allow animal testing for cleaning products.

By looking for the Leaping Bunny, you'll be making your world cruelty free, and helping us make the whole world cruelty free – it's that simple.

Cruelty free shopping is getting easier all the time with more and more companies gaining Leaping Bunny certification. For a regularly updated list of certified brands visit www.CrueltyFreeInternational.org/LeapingBunny

About this book

The Little Book of Cruelty Free is produced by Cruelty Free International to help you identify certified products available to buy in the UK. We approve each company's entire range of own-brand products so even if you don't see the Leaping Bunny on the product, you can be confident that their products are cruelty free.

More ways to get involved

• Take the pledge to go cruelty free!

Do the right thing for animals by only buying Leaping Bunny certified brands – and access monthly offers from our certified companies. Visit: www.CrueltyFreeInternational.org/GoCrueltyFree

• Cruelty Free International receives no government or lottery funding, meaning we rely entirely on supporter donations to enable us to work to end animal experiments worldwide. Please help by making a donation at www.CrueltyFreeInternational.org/donate or call 020 7700 4888
